

Prepare for Winter

YOU will need protection this winter. Your house needs protection also. Rain, snow and heat will find the weak spots and destroy the wood. Good paint will stop this and save you many times its cost. Paint is a weatherproofer—that is the real reason for paint.

Measure your house and let us tell you how much it will cost you. If it needs painting the cost will be less than the damage caused by the coming winter.

Everything in Paints, Varnish, Stains, Glass, Wall Paper, Building and Roofing Paper. Prices right and quality the best that money can buy

In the Social Realm

Combine

The men's and women's classes of the Presbyterian church combined and held a most pleasant social gathering in the church parlors one day last week.

Park Dinner

Last Tuesday evening Dr. Maud L. Hawley entertained about fifteen of her friends in the manner which has become so popular in Ashland this year, a dinner in Lithia park.

Miller-Boyd

Miss Bessie Boyd of Sacramento, a granddaughter of Mrs. A. H. Russell of Ashland, was married last Saturday to Leland Adrian Miller, a rising young civil engineer of San Francisco.

Taffy Pull

About thirty members of the Methodist church met at their parsonage on Laurel street last Wednesday night and enjoyed a taffy pull and the levities which of necessity go with such events.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the M. E. church Tuesday, September 26, at 2:30 p. m. Every member is requested to attend this meeting.

ing and to invite her friends to come. M. C. Reed will give a fine address dealing with constitutional amendments. Visitors welcomed. Please enter north door of church.

Cooked Food Sale

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a cooked food sale at Dickerson's store, 180 Main st., Saturday, Sept. 23. Pumpkin pies a specialty.

Watermelon

Following the regular Monday night drill this week, the coast artillery company boys "fell to" and attacked a large force of watermelons. The melons were routed and all taken prisoner.

Parent-Teachers

The West Side School Parent-Teachers' association will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:45. Parents are urged to be present as Professor Briscoe will give an outline of the Junior high school work for the coming year. Refreshments will be served.

If there are a sufficient number of children whose parents wish them to attend the Montessori school in Chautauqua hall in the afternoon, an afternoon class will be started. Those interested phone 441-R. If the parents wish, an auto will call for the children.

MRS. L. NEWLAND, 35-11

W. S. Parent-Teachers

The first meeting of the year of the West Side Parent-Teachers' association occurred Tuesday afternoon at the West school. About thirty-five mothers and teachers were in attendance. Mr. Briscoe gave a splendid talk on Junior high school work, followed by talks from Mr. Hammond, manual training, and Miss Brandess, domestic science teachers. Rev. Douglas explained the brewers' amendment and the proposed constitutional amendment. Mr. Eubanks spoke on the school tax. Refreshments were served and mothers met the new teachers after the program.

Auxiliary Club to Entertain Men.

The Auxiliary Club will entertain the men next Monday evening at Auxiliary hall, and one of the most unique and jolly affairs of the season is anticipated. The ladies will gather at the club rooms at 8 o'clock for business meeting and the men will be expected at 9. Cards and dancing and other enlivening forms of amusement will be features of the evening. The hostesses are to be Mesdames Hum Pracht, Henry Provost, Frank Jordan, E. R. Greive, E. H. Bush and Miss Lillian Patterson.

Talent Banquet and Social

Over forty men of Talent will serve a big banquet in Odd Fellows hall on Friday evening, September 22, at 7 to 9 o'clock. The following are some of the names of the men behind the affair: Messrs. King, Overthings, Racey, Weaver, Williams, Bostwick, Terrill, Luke, Vander Sluis, Cook, Adamson, Mianth, High, Brown, Riekhart, Withrow, Fuller, Perry, Fleury, Beeson, Lunt, Jeffery, Vogel, Froman, Yeo, Race, Reimer, McCormick, Sorem, Stratton, Leach, Davis, Elmore, Bowman, Sowash, Ager, Morse, Frame, Reed, Foss. An interesting and unique entertainment will also constitute part of the program. Everybody invited, especially Medford and Ashland. Tickets will be 50 cent, children 25 cents.

Announces Engagement.

At a very pretty luncheon tendered by Miss Lucile Barber at her Granite street home Tuesday, Miss Vivian Greer announced her coming marriage to Mr. Harvey Ling. The happy event is to take place on Wednesday, October 11. Miss Greer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Greer. Mr. Ling is the son of Mr. J. W. Ling of Medford and is advertising manager of the Tidings. Unique little hand-painted announcement cards made known the happy news. The table was tastefully and artistically decorated in pink and white, this color scheme being carried out throughout. A five-course luncheon, each course a veritable conquest of epicurean daintiness, was served to the following intimate friends of the bride-to-be: Misses Hortense Winter, Margaret Sieman, Ruby Palmer, Allie Shinn, Gladys Carnahan, Lucile Barber, Mrs. Chester Stevenson, Mrs. Beaumont DeLoach of Aberdeen, Wash., and Mrs. Otto Klum of Medford.

Rural Credit Meet At Medford Sat.

There will be an adjourned meeting of farmers and all interested in the organization of a National Farm Loan association next Saturday, September 23, at 2:30 p. m., at the public library, Medford, for the purpose of hearing the report of the special committee appointed at the meeting held September 2, on units of organization and special questions submitted to the federal farm loan board by the committee, as requested by the said meeting. Also a full discussion of how to organize in this county. C. C. CATE, County agriculturalist and chairman of the meeting.

Movie Matters

There once was a Melancholy Gink. His sole relief from the Terrible Depression brought on by eight hours of Grinding Toil. Was going to cast his glimmers on the Screen on which the Movie Man was projecting Charlie Chaplin. But One Day none of the Emporiums of Entertainment in the Burg showed a Charlie Film. He was at First for throwing himself in the Muddy River. Old Habits prevailed and he wandered into his Pet Picture Palace. The Glittering Attraction for that evening was May Robson. Instead of Passing Away in Unendurable Agony as he Anticipated. He laughed so Uproariously that he Busted Off three Necessary Suspender Buttons and had to wait until the Last Loving Pair in the Back Row had Departed, before he Dared to make His Precarious Exit. Since that Memorable Evening his Triple-plated Grouch has Evaporated in Smoke and any Ordinary Comedy appeals to his Flourishing Sense of Humor.

Moral: The poor boob that jumps in the Driny Drink never knows what he is Passing Up.

Vining Visions in Verse. With thrilling moments salient. Dramatic art terrific. "The Woman's Law" on Monday night

Was great, to be specific. Dustin Farnum filled the house On Tuesday, and it seems That night his face Was given space In many girlish dreams.

We heard one lady Wednesday say, With shrug of shoulders Naughtly, "I'm glad my husband stayed at home, It bordered on the naughty." A scream, "Excuse Me," proved to be, Fans giggled while they blushed— But few were shocked And all were rocked With laughter seldom hushed.

The most elaborate set of many weeks was used in "The Danger Girl," a Triangle production, in which Bobbie Vernon drives a twelve-passenger hotel bus through the stained glass window of a New York cafe. Over eighty people were used in this set, eating and drinking at the little tables and listening to the music of an orchestra, while without warning the whole side of the cafe caved in, and the truck crashed through the mass of fleeing people. Chairs and tables, palms and Chinese screens were left as splintered wrecks as the characters got out of the way of the wrecked machine as best they might. One man was pinned in between a crushed table and a half dozen tangled bentwood chairs, and another young dancer was pinned between a Chinese screen and the side of the set and could not be released until the automobile was backed off.

The Puppy and the Fish.

Through the generosity of Frank Keenan, the character actor, the new marble fountain at the Triangle-Ince plant in Culver City recently became the home of two dozen prize fish. The collection consists of gold fish, carp and Chinese devil fish, with which Keenan claims to have won numerous blue ribbons. The piscatorial beauties thus far have made only one enemy at the plant. He is "Rags," the dog actor, who seems to spend the entire day gazing longingly and hungrily at the finny intruders in the fountain. On this account some of the actors at the plant are inclined to agree with the verdict of Joe Delfino, of the property department, that "Rags" is not a Scotch terrier, but an "ocean greyhound."

into the making of Triangle-Ince plays. As a result of a suggestion made by Allen, each of the stages at the Culver City plant is now equipped with a telephone wire connecting with the main switchboard operator in the administration building. By this means a performer is enabled to act more naturally when engaged in telephonic conversation for scenes before the camera. Those directors who have already had occasion to use the novel innovation have pronounced it to be highly successful, and many of the players, too, have agreed that it successfully serves its purpose.

"Dusty" Farnum Back From Vacation.

Tanned a much envied outdoor color, "Dusty" Farnum, the popular Pallas-Paramount star, arrived back at the studio after another one of those fishing vacations that he frequently takes. The heat oppressed unfortunates at the Pallas plant were very much interested in his yarns about his cruise with Zane Gray, the author. His descriptions of the scenic beauties of the spots visited and of cool and refreshing lunches on sheltered beaches whose only inhabitants were wild fowl, made the workers green with envy. The yarn most enjoyed was about a 230-pound swordfish which got away after a struggle lasting two hours and a half. Encores of "Tell it to me" became so persistent that "Dusty," after listening to heavy condolences from his third auditor, became aware of the too enthusiastic applause at the part where the big fish got away, and refused to tell any more about his trip.

"Goodnight Corns ! We Use 'Gets-It!'"

3 Drops in 2 Seconds. That's All "GETS-IT" Does the Rest. Never Fails.

"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it? "GETS-IT" is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comes off. Millions use nothing else. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Ashland and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. J. McNair, McNair Bros.
